As the mileage data is entered, statistics on the mileage indicator will appear in the "Reports" tab.

The dashboard (the "Reports" tab) contains 2 indicators: mileage for the period and average daily mileage for the period.

Click on this line to navigate to the chart.

The ARBA Auto app offers a unique mileage analysis method where you can see the distance traveled (mileage) by month. This method allows you to visually display the dynamics of mileage and calculate other financial indicators also by month.

To see the mileage forecast for 12 months in advance, select the period “ALL” and check the "Show mileage forecast" box. On the chart, you can view data for different periods, as well as compare the mileage of different vehicles or the mileage of one vehicle in different years.
